Raven Players Perform One of America's Most Popular Plays!

This November, Broadway comes to Robbinsville as the Raven Players perform the Pulitzer Prize winning play You Can't Take It With You, by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart. This classic comedy about family, love, and what really matters in life follows the adventures of the Sycamore family, a collection of cheerful and eccentric (yet lovable) incompetents. Into this whirlwind of activity comes Tony Kirby, Alice Sycamore's boyfriend, the son of her boss, and the epitome of normalcy and success in the business world. Tony is amused by Alice's family and loves Alice in spite of the craziness in her household. Despite the differences between the two families, Alice and Tony are soon engaged and a dinner party is planned for Tony's parents at the Sycamore home. However, as with most things in this wacky family, things don't go exactly as planned.

The cast and crew of RHS Raven Players won many accolades last season through the New Jersey Thespian Festival and the American High School Theater Festival. This past summer, much of the cast and crew was honored to perform at the Edinburgh Fringe Festival. What makes Robbinsville High School's fall play unique and the program so special is the opportunity for all students to train with professionals and take on leadership roles both onstage and off. The show boasts an enormous ensemble cast who've studied in theater classes and with various guest artists. The set, costumes, and props have all been designed and produced by students who've successfully completed the theater design course at the high school. For a small fraction of the price it would cost to see the revival playing on Broadway this fall, local audiences can instead see this stunning production by a group of dedicated young theater artists who are bound for great things!

As Grandpa, the Sycamore family patriarch and resident wise man, explains: "You've got all the money you need. You can't take it with you. . . . And what's it got you? Same kind of mail every morning, same kind of deals, same kind of meetings, same dinners at night, same indigestion. Where does the fun come in? Don't you think there ought to be something more. . . . We haven't got too much time, you know--any of us." Take Grandpa's advice and make some time to have some fun!

Performances are Thursday, November 13 through Saturday, November 15 at 7:30 PM in the Robbinsville High School Auditorium. Tickets are $10 for adults and $8 for students/seniors and will be available at the door or can be purchased online at rp.booktix.com.
